PROCEDURES

A. Gifts From Vendors to YNHHS

1. Vendors may seek to cultivate relationships with healthcare providers by offering gifts, gratuities, entertainment, and other items and services of value. These activities have a high potential for fraud and abuse and raise anti-kickback and conflict of interest concerns. If even one purpose of the offer of an item or service is an award or retention of business that is reimbursable by any federal healthcare program, the arrangement potentially violates the federal anti-kickback statute.
2. To avoid the risk of bias in decision-making, it is the YNHHS policy that workforce including students and volunteers may not accept any gifts, regardless of value, from any vendor. Gifts include cash in any form, cash equivalents such as gift certificates.

3. YNHHS workforce may not participate in any vendor survey that provides an honorarium in exchange for completing the survey. If the survey is sent via email, the workforce member needs to unsubscribe and notify OPCC by emailing compliance@ynhh.org.

B. Meals or Other Food from Vendors to YNHHS

1. On-site
 - a. Vendors may not provide food and YNHHS workforce may not accept meals or other types of food or drink.
 - b. It is customary for vendors to offer perishable items such as fruit baskets, cookies, candy, and flowers during the holiday season. 3. Inclusion of an YNHHS workforce member's spouse or other guests is not appropriate. Offering "take-out" meals (such as "dine & dash" programs) is not permissible.

Please review Vendor Visitation Policy

If the kiosk is unable to print the badge, the vendor will need to use the mobile application. Those representatives who are witnessed not wearing a badge will be questioned by hospital workforce, advised of the policy and immediately referred to the facility's Procurement Coordinator or other Supply Chain Management workforce

All consulting requests need to be reviewed by management and approved by Vice President or above.
- b. Vendors have been known to compensate providers for time spent listening to sales representatives market products. In some cases, these payments are characterized as "consulting" fees and may require providers to complete minimal paperwork. Other companies pay providers for time spent accessing websites to view or listen to marketing information or perform "research." All of these activities are highly suspect under the anti-kickback statute, are highly susceptible to fraud and abuse, and are therefore strictly prohibited.
